The title How To Have It All sounds like an extremely high aim. At times in our lives this possibility seems close and other times unreachable, often it is not something we even think of wishing for.

In How To Have It All Christina shows you how to reach achievement with fulfilment by delivering on the promises you make to yourself.

How to Have It All is one of Christina's most popular Keynote Speeches.

Christina's second book The True Believers was released in 2014 and was endorsed by Matt Church – Founder of Thought Leaders Global.

A True Believer is one that reaches extraordinary success both professionally and personally.

The True Believers is not about the religious or political type – it's about those who have so much belief, resilience and conviction – so much commitment that they don't waver. These people know their true North.

True Believers know that life is a marathon. In a sprint it's about crossing the finish line first, but in a marathon it's all about finishing! This book helps to bridge the gap from just wishing life could be better, to making significant change as a True Believer.
